AFFIDAVIT OF PROBABLE CAUSE

STATE OF MONTANA     )
                                      : ss County of Missoula     )

JENNIFER CLARK, Deputy County Attorney of Missoula County, Montana, being first duly sworn upon oath, deposes and says:

I have read the official law enforcement reports regarding the investigation of CYNTHIA R EVERS for allegedly committing the offense(s) set forth in the complaint and based upon the information contained in the reports, if true, believe probable cause exists to justify charging the above-named defendant as specified in the accompanying complaint.

On November 23, 2012, at approximately 11:30 a.m., Missoula City Police Officers were dispatched to the C'Mon Inn at 2775 Expo Parkway for a report of a disturbance. Detective Stacy Lear interviewed the complainant, Shawna Golie. Golie stated she had spent the night at the hotel with her friend Joshua Jordan, but that when she arrived Jordan had another female, identified as Cynthia Evers, staying with him. Jordan and Evers had a disagreement during the night after which Jordan locked Evers out of the room

The next morning, Golie left the room and was loading her luggage into the trunk of her silver 2005 Mustang coupe when she discovered her rear driver's side tire had been punctured. While Golie was still standing at the trunk, she was approached by Evers, who admitted to Golie that she had punctured the tire. Golie then told Evers she was calling 911.

Evers then left on foot. A short time later Golie saw Evers driving toward her in Evers' white Suzuki SUV. It appeared to Golie that Evers was intentionally trying to run over her. Golie leapt aside and was not hit, but Evers sideswiped the rear of Golie's Mustang, causing significant damage. Golie stated she was standing by the trunk with luggage at her feet when Evers drove at her, and that Evers also hit a piece of her luggage and dragged it from the scene under her SUV. Golie also stated Evers was trying to hit her and that if she had not moved out of the way she would have been struck. After Evers left the scene, Golie discovered someone had written "punk" and "run rabbit run" on her vehicle in black permanent marker.

Officers located Evers driving on I-90 and were able to stop her after a brief pursuit. Detective Lear interviewed Evers. Evers admitted to puncturing Golie's tire with an army green-handled fixed blade knife, and also admitted to writing "punk" and "run rabbit run" on Golie's car with a Sharpie permanent marker, which she placed in her own vehicle after the vandalism. Evers also admitted to intentionally ramming Golie's car with her own vehicle, and said she had also run over a piece of luggage and dragged it under her car for some distance before stopping, removing it, and placing it inside her vehicle. Evers claimed she did not see Golie standing near the vehicle when she hit it.

The estimated damage to Golie's vehicle is over $1,500.00.
