Future for Oneonta Foundation Plots an Expanded Growth Strategy

June 5, 2022

The Future for Oneonta Foundation (“FOF”) has changed leadership and is broadening its impact.

Since its formation in 1982, FOF has awarded more than $500,000 to area agencies and civic, cultural, and educational projects. The foundations’ mission to improve the quality of life in Oneonta has not wavered during the past 40 years.

Recently retired FOF Chairman, Chris Kuhn, stepped down after four years at the organization’s helm in order to join his family in the upper Midwest.

“I am most proud of the Community Engagement Awards that we gave out each year. Recognizing people for their commitment to Oneonta, from beautifying their property to organizing community events, is so important. The world needs more of this. It felt good to be part of it,” Kuhn says.

Kuhn has nothing but praise for the new Chairman, Oneonta businessman Alan Cleinman. With Cleinman’s guidance, the organization has begun to widen its focus to include larger, transformational projects, the first of which is a $50,000 grant added to the City of Oneonta’s $250,000 in funding to pave and expand the Susquehanna Greenway through Neahwa Park.

“While FOF will always be there for the underdog, providing small grants to plant flowers on Main Street or to schools and community agencies to operate vital programs, it’s time FOF made a bigger footprint,” Kuhn says.

“As a 45-year resident of the city,” Cleinman said, “I believe that it’s everyone’s duty to assist in making our community a better place to live. As an entrepreneur, business owner and consultant, I’m used to tackling big projects. It is my hope that FOF, with the help of Oneonta’s citizens and supportive granting organizations, can get behind a number of transformational projects to help existing and new projects realize their vision.”

Mr. Kuhn, until recently the Center Director at Oneonta’s award-winning Jobs Corps facility, has taken a new role with the parent company. A going-away party for Kuhn will be held on June 8th from 5:00pm to 7:00pm at the B-side Ballroom in Oneonta.
